A School For Fools

The School for Fools is a special school for those with mental disorders, or are perhaps just slow learners. The narrator, never identified other than as 'student so-and-so' describes himself as an 'insane snot-nosed brat, a bad student of a special school, and he is unable to memorize anything ... stupid and talentless.'

I hasten to call A SCHOOL FOR FOOLS a neural novel. The brain and its connectivities are in some sense the subject and in large part the canvas. But this is the organic brain, embedded as a phenomenon in nature, and in the expression presented by Sokolov, deliriously and pleasingly unconstrained.

A School for Fools by Sasha Sokolov - Goodreads

A School for Fools (Школа для дураков) is a novel written by Sasha Sokolov in the 1960s. "A School for Fools" was first circulated via 'samizdat', or self-publication through underground connections. However, the novel was formally published in 1976 in U.S. (samizdat). Школа для дураков is often classified as a work of phantasmagoric modernism.
